At the Beginning...

The first patent related to magnetic limescale preventing devices has been procured in 1945 and magnetic limescale preventing devices have been using in Europe and America nearly 60 years. But, Turkey had met these devices after 50 years later, in 1995's.

This acquaintance that had started with the devices imported by Akua in 1995, has been continuing with the devices which are manufactured in Turkey by Akua since 2006. Akua has been continuing to its way with the increase in quality and with new types.

Today, Akua manufactures magnetic limescale preventing devices have different nominal diameters ranging from 1/2" to 144", different temperatures as 90°C, 180°C, 250°C and 600°C (four operating temperatures) and coupling elements as screwed and flanged.

Akua magnetic limescale preventing devices have been using with great pleasure from houses to industrial plant and everywhere in which water is used. Due to this pleasure, magnetic limescale preventing devices manufactured by Akua had been exceeded to 45000 in Turkey.

Although Akua that has only four years experiences in magnetic limescale preventing devices manufacturing tve exceeded ourselves developing our devices continuously by research and development. As a result of this achievement our devices had been imitated. Naturally, only their geometry, but not their functions. Because, Akua magnetic limescale preventing devices are the products developed by an experienced design team and advanced engineering studies.

Akua will continue to supply improved devices to you and new devices that will corresponds your expectations by research and development.

With best regards.
